FROM OREGON.

The Bloomington (Iowa) Herald says: We have been permitted to make the following extracts from a letter written by Wm. T. Perry, formerly of this county, to Messrs. Waller and Sherry. It is dated Oregon City, March 30, 1843.

"I arrived at the settlement in Oregon on the 25th September, where I have remained ever since, at work at my trade (carpenter), and was of course, compelled to, after spending all I had to get here; but I have done well, being now worth more than when I left Iowa. We have not been sick a day since we left the States. Hannah Abel was married in two weeks after we arrived here she has done well. [Quick business that—great country that is unimproved.] Now to the country, which is just as I expected to find it. It is rough and broken, and generally heavy timbered, principally with fir, yellow pine, cedar, hemlock, spruce, oak, ash, and maple. It is well watered, and about one-tenth prairie of excellent quality. The timbered land, is also excellent for farming. In the streams there is an abundance of fish among which are the finest salmon to be found in the world.

"There is enough to live on in this country. The inhabitants are generally good farmers, raise large quantities of grain and produce from 40 to 100 head of cattle, 20 to 60 head of hogs, and horses without number. Clothing is cheaper here than in Iowa. There is nothing to be found in our stores but that we have an abundance of, and at a cheaper rate, as they are brought here free of duty. Nothing but bear exportation from Iowa, except goods. They are worth about $50 in this country. Good ones will sell at from $30 to 60 per head. "Several of our company are dissatisfied with the country, and contemplate going to California this spring. For my part I am well satisfied, and expect to stay in Oregon. This place (Oregon City) is situated at the head of navigation, and at the foot of Wallamut Falls, one of the greatest water-powers in the world. It contains twelve dwelling houses, three stores and one blacksmith's shop; one cooper's shop; two saw mills and one grist mill are in operation, and another of three run of stones is to be erected this summer. I get $3 a day for my work, and tools furnished, common labor is worth $1 75 per day without board. No ardent spirits in the country. "WM. T. PERRY."

What a blockhead this Mr. Perry must be! "Clothing is cheaper here than in Iowa," says he. There is nothing to be found in our stores but that we have an abundance of, and at a cheaper rate, as they are brought here free of duty. "Don't you know Mr. Perry, that high duties makes goods dearer? You are altogether mistaken, as every Tariff man can easily show you. Mountains will tell you. We shall enforce our Tariff upon you presently, and then you will see.

Shurely, here is a secluded region where the blessings of our Tariff do not reach. A carpenter gets $3 a day and a laborer $1 75, and both can buy goods cheaper than in our Tariff land. Would it be a benefit to them to make goods higher? How would the carpenter of Oregon be benefited by compelling them to buy at higher prices the manufactures of Lowell or Nashua? And if they cannot be benefited by such a policy, how can the carpenter, laborer or farmer of Iowa? And if not of Iowa, how can it benefit any portion of the mechanic, farming, planting, trading or professional interest, whether fifty or four thousand miles from the manufacturing factories?

He who will fix his thoughts upon the simple matters of fact stated by this plain carpenter, will better understand the tariff policy than he could by reading a thousand speeches of your Clay and your Websters, or ten thousand pages of fine spun arrangements.—Kendall's Expositor.

Murder Trial in Canada.—James McDermott and Grace Marks were tried and convicted in Toronto on the third instant, and sentenced to be hanged on the 21st for the murder of Phoebe Kinney, and Montgomery. McDermott was perfectly unconcerned throughout the trial, but the young girl Grace, was in tears, and swooned when the verdict was rendered. In falling forward, one of the spikes surrounding the dock, inflicted a wound in her breast, and although out of a serious nature, caused much pain.

TOUCHING.—Some of the young whig politicians of Baltimore have written to Henry Clay, asking him to cut them, with his own hands, a pole on which to raise a banner at some convention which is shortly to be held, and Mr. Clay in return, promises to send them a stick as soon as possible. The correspondence is published and will be found very affecting—as tender as a cord of wood. From such symptoms as these it may be presumed that the campaign of 1844, is to be conducted by our opponents, with even a more strict adherence to what is called the "humbugous" principle, than it was in 1840. There has, indeed been a good deal of that sort of practice already. Not long since we saw a correspondence with Mr. Clay, on the occasion of presenting him with a bottle of "Cologne Water," and Mr. Clay replied that he liked Cologne Water, which reply was published as a measure of conciliation to other people who like "Cologne." Then a pair of boots is forwarded, and the astounding fact is officially announced that Mr. Clay is partial to boots. Somebody sends him a bushel of potatoes, and straightway it appears in the journals that the wonderful man at Ashland eats potatoes, with salt—three barrels of salt from Syracuse: the inference of course being that every one who is partial to boots, potatoes and salt, must become by the force of sympathy, partial to Henry Clay, and as buckwheat cakes stand high in popular estimation, we may be sure that many cakes will go to A-hland to ascertain what Mr. Clay thinks of cakes in general and buckwheat cakes in particular.

Now all this sort of thing is well enough, in one aspect of the case—so far at least, as individuals in business resort to it as a means of advertising their commodities, and of drawing attention to articles they attend to articles they wish to dispose of. They wisely, of course, in thus turning politics to account; but as a means of electioneering, in modis operandi is sufficiently laughable. The authority generally cited in its support is a reference to the hickory poles of the Jackson campaign, and truly, if the adoption of that emblem were a fault, we are sufficiently punished for our sins by the broad and ridiculous caricature and the limping imitation, which coinism has ever since been presenting to our eyes. It is complimentary, to be sure, to be told that whatever we do, forms a pattern for our opponents; but still it is rather wearisome to find so great a lack of originality, and to see a tolerably good idea in its outset, thus perverted to tatters, to vary rage.—Pennsylvania.

MIXING COLORS.—Married on the 14th inst. by the Rev. J. Black, Mr. P. GREEN to Miss Mary Warren, niece of Thomas Brown. Bridgemaids—John Gray, bridesmaid, S. Redd.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Convened under the Constitution as the Representatives of the people, it becomes my duty, to remember the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, for the blessings that have crowned the year now drawing to a close.—We have peace with all the world. Commotions and feuds have not been permitted to disturb the harmony of the Union. Bountiful crops have rewarded the labors of the husbandman. An unusual degree of health has prevailed in almost every part of the State. Although the last few years have been attended with a depression which caused all our interests to droop and languish, the indications that industry will again receive its appropriate reward, are calculated to inspire hope and confidence.

Since the last meeting of the Legislature, nothing has transpired which has produced any material alteration in our affairs, or which calls for any special legislative interference, beyond the ordinary duties which annually require consideration; although some of the matters that will claim your attention, involve considerable difficulty.

The current expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending on the 31st of last October, were $90,997 00 as shown by the report of the Treasurer of State, which is herewith laid before the Legislature.

The Auditor in his report, herewith submitted, estimates the sum necessary for the current fiscal year at $100,000 00.

The revenue of the present year, levied and collected by law, will amount to about $240,000 00. Nearly all of this sum will be paid in Treasury Notes. It is not my wish or intention to interfere with the course of policy, which may be found expedient to adopt, after my connection with the government of the State shall be dissolved; but I trust I shall not be regarded as traveling beyond the appropriate sphere of my duties, in reiterating the recommendation contained in my last annual message against the re-issue of Treasury Notes, if it can possibly be avoided. They form a very considerable portion of the circulating medium in many parts of the State, passing at a value below par; and a re-issue would inevitably produce their further depreciation, thereby inflicting an additional loss upon the people which they could ill endure. Throwing these Notes again into circulation, is to require the people to again redeem them, and it is respectfully submitted, whether it would not be the better course to resort to such temporary loans as might be found expedient and practicable.

The State Agent has not been able to submit the report of his operations; but I am authorized by him to say that the situation of the suspended debt on account of bonds sold by the State remains nearly as stated in his report last year. Much of this debt is hopeless, and even as it respects that portion of it which may be regarded as capable of collection, but little can be realized from it at present. The Agent states that he has succeeded in obtaining $30,000, which, under a law of last session he is required to pay certain contractors on the public works, whose claims against the State remained unsatisfied.

In my annual message to the Legislature in December, 1841, I gave a detailed statement of the extent and condition of the public debt. Its amount was then stated to be $15,085,000. Since then, no part of the interest upon this sum has been paid, except upon that portion of it borrowed for the establishment of the State Bank. In the meantime, however, a portion of this debt has been liquidated. The stockholders of the Lawrenceburgh and Indianapolis Railroad Company have returned bonds in lieu of the bonds issued by the State to the Company—the State Agent has taken up some of the outstanding bonds in the adjustment of portions of the suspended debt—a part of the Treasury Notes in circulation, have been redeemed in the collection of the revenue—so that the State debt remains not far different from what it was in 1841.

During the present year I have received two communications from foreign holders of our bonds; one from the city of London—the other from Geneva; which are herewith laid before the General Assembly.

In my previous message I strongly pressed upon the Legislature the condition of the public debt, and the adoption of such measures as might, as far as our circumstances would permit, enable us to do what is just and right with regard to it. It will require no exertion to find our arms, and say that our liabilities are beyond our means, and therefore we will not make an effort to pay. There may be some amongst us who would be well satisfied, if those entrusted with public affairs would avoid all allusion to this subject. I cannot believe that Indiana will openly repudiate her debts; but the same result can be as readily brought about by doing nothing, and will as certainly, though not as speedily, secure for us all the reproach and disgrace consequent upon the direct act. I know we cannot now pay the interest on our public debt. All I urge is that we should acknowledge the obligations resting upon us, and shape our measures so as to apply all the available means, which industry, economy, and careful management may hereafter furnish us, to the discharge of these obligations. So far as our prosperity is identified with the confidence reposed in our citizens—so far as our public men may promote our interests in the councils of the nation and otherwise, it is essential that the character of the State should be preserved; for if it be destroyed, we will find that confidence will be lost.

A company has been recently organized under the act of 1842, providing for letting the public works to companies, with a view to the completion of the Cross-Cut Canal terminating at Terre-Haute, under very favorable circumstances. I am not able to speak with accuracy of the operations of the White Water Valley Canal, and the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad companies.—It is understood, however, that the respective works have been prosecuted with a zeal and determination which promise fair for their completion.

The continuation of the Wabash and Erie Canal under the supervision of James Blair Esq., the present commissioner, has been prosecuted with as much rapidity as the means appropriated to the work would permit; and it is now pretty certain that it will be finished to Terre-Haute fully as soon as was at first anticipated. The report of the commissioner is herewith laid before the Legislature, and exhibits the extent of his operations and expenditures.

The State of Indiana was authorized by an act of Congress to select lands equal to the quantity covered by Indian reservations on the lands selected on account of the Wabash and Erie Canal east of the Tippecanoe river. This duty was performed during the past summer by Messrs. Sigler and Murry, who were appointed for that purpose. It was found that of the lands selected for the canal west of Tippecanoe, a considerable quantity was taken from the State by pre-emption claims. It was also signified to the Executive that the original selections for the Wabash and Erie Canal were made on the assumption that the canal followed a straight line; whereas by taking the actual length of the canal as located, for the basis of the selection, the State would be entitled to an additional quantity of land. The above named agents in obedience to instructions, selected lands in lieu of those covered by pre-emption rights, and at the same time additional lands to supply the deficiency arising from the alleged error in taking a direct line as the foundation of the previous selections. The latter claim has been submitted to the action of the appropriate department at Washington City, and will probably be determined during the present winter.

It may be proper to mention, that by the act of 1842, authorizing the continuation of the public works by companies, provision was made for disposing of all or any part of said works to individuals or companies, for the bonds which had been issued by the State. It was also required that publication of the object of said act should be made for thirty days in the Journal of Commerce, published in the city of New York, which requisition was immediately complied with by the Executive. The hope was entertained by some, that as the bonds were greatly depreciated, and the State had agreed to receive them at their face, that no inconsiderable portion of the public debt would in this way be liquidated. But there have been as yet no propositions submitted for the return of our bonds in this mode, and we cannot reasonably expect any relief from this provision of the above named act.

The State Bank of Indiana still maintains its credit, and with the improvement of the times will be able to resume her usefulness. The question no longer admits of a doubt that this institution, under the same prudent management which has sustained it thus far, will survive the difficulties and embarrassments which have involved so many similar institutions in ruin.

The following table exhibits the general condition of the affairs of the bank, as shown on the 31st of last October.

admission and projects were two common-places and have followed by the inevitable consequences of wild and reckless speculation.
All that was value—all that tends to our prosperity and enjoyment, is the creation of industry. Nature may be lavish of her gifts, but we may have a fruitful soil and good seasons yet they are of no benefit to us unless they have been converted by the labor of man into the products of the earth. The wealth of a country is increased in proportion to its industry and economy. Capital may be unemployed, industrially, without adding to our wealth, or may be employed in pursuits which promise much, or may be employed in pursuits which may occasionally add to the fortunes of single individuals, but not resting on the basis of productive employment, inevitably sink in the end to a distressful harvest of ruin and prospects to the great body of the community.

And first among these pursuits on which the citizens of our State are to rely for substantial wealth, we must regard the cultivation of the soil. Steady markets, uniform prices, and a sound currency are essential, however, at all times to agricultural prosperity. To obtain these we must wisely depend upon our own government we would.
I have valuable markets, we must create them if we would secure prices which will return a fair profit, and protect us from the evils of a fluctuating trade and commerce, we must have a steady demand, the limits of which can at all times be estimated. We must give protection to our own industry. By protection, I mean the adoption of that policy which will encourage and sustain those branches of business by which our productions will be consumed, furnishing a suitable return to the producer. Have we a foreign market for our surplus on which we can at all times rely?
The restrictions of foreign nations are increased to such an extent that our surplus valuable agricultural products. The question of protection is sometimes said to be as it were in the nature of a privilege, a class at the expense of another. It does not follow that this is the case because our productions cannot be effected in the home market by foreign competition. If the direct protection of other interests results in the establishment of a home market, it is as direct beneficial to the agriculturist as if it sprang from legislative provisions directed solely to his interests. Exclusive advantages not benefiting others are not to be tolerated; but we must not forget to distinguish that protection which necessarily includes partial evils as the effect of a compromise in securing a greater average amount of good from those enactments which do not secure any such desirable results and do not exclude still greater evils. On this policy, in view of the restrictions of other nations, is to render ourselves independent of the paper labor and workshops of Europe.

There is another matter intimately connected with our prosperity. I allude to the currency. A purely fiat currency, as a political question, may be momentous in promoting prejudices which exist to some extent in every community, but which we look at the diversified relations of the whole country—the distant points which are connected in trade and commerce—and the inconvenience and certain loss to which we are subjected by an unequal currency, or a currency almost as difficult of transmission considering all the evils of our own currency of trade, the necessity of a circulating medium, by which we shall be enabled to secure exchanges at fair and reasonable rates, in connection with a currency which shall be in all parts of the Union, and readily convertible into gold and silver, is obviously the business of this country never was more healthy, credit never more sound than when our main reliance was on such a currency, and we must believe that a return to it will produce similar results.

To-day closes my connection with the government of the State of Indiana. The situation which I have occupied has been one not only of responsibility, but of difficulty. It has been my duty to perform the various duties which devolved upon me in such a manner as to induce in the benefit of the State. In my recent address to the legislature, I have earnestly urged the promotion of the great interests of education, —the cherishing of those institutions which are regarded as essential to civilized life, —the just relief of the people as far as it could be secured by proper legislation—a careful and frugal economy—a strict accountability of all public officers, with a view to avoid all wasteful expenditures of the public moneys, —and a rigid investigation of the accounts and proceedings of those connected with our public works; and again and again have I urged the absolute necessity of refraining from all unwarranted claims which might tarnish the reputation of our State in reference to our public debt and have endeavored in all my duties to avoid the prostitution of my office to mere partisan purposes; for I was not without a consciousness of the fact that the public held me responsible for the office which I held, and that I could never be the legiti-mate exercise of my duties when I for-gote that such office is held in trust for the people, and not to aid a mere party—and when the latter course is taken, the public interests are sure to suffer. I may have erred, such is the lot of human nature. I may have been subjected to censure. As to these, I have only to say that acting from the light before me I supposed I was doing right. I could not see what others were able to discern after the act was performed, and by which they were enabled to form a different, and in all probability, a more correct opinion, and that reason has been bestowed on me for not discerning what was, at the time beyond the reach of my vision. I refer to a private letter in society without personal regard to the person which places me there carrying with me the consciousness of having endured a deep interest in the welfare and prosperity of the State of Indiana, and I am more glad than to say anything which may fastens a lasting stain upon her character. Your devotion and loyalty may be characterized by wisdom and moderation, and the happiness of the commonwealth, and to the happiness of the people, secure their prosperity, and tend to the perpetuation of our beloved institutions, is my sincere prayer, at the close of my official duties.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
December 10, 1843.

Married in Springfield, Ill. Mr. James P. Griffith, to Miss Emily N. Land. A happy bridegroom ought to be a case wherein, such he can only expect "good profits."

NOTICE.
The Democratic State Central Committee has been organized for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention, to be held on the 10th of January, 1844.
In accordance with a resolution adopted by a large and respectable democratic meeting of members of the Legislature and others, held at the Capital on the 10th instant, the following gentlemen are appointed to the Convention.
The Democratic papers in the State are respectfully requested to call the attention of the Democracy to the subject, and urge a full attendance of delegates.
By order, G. A. CHAPMAN, Secretary.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1843.

FOR PRESIDENT
MARTIN VAN BUREN.
VICE PRESIDENT
RICHARD M. JOHNSON.

(Subject of the National Convention.)

We have received the President's Message which we lay before our readers at once.

The Legislature convened on Monday, Dec-10th. The Governor's Message occupied a large space in our columns. That we have no room to notice the proceedings. In the Senate the following officers were elected: Wm. P. Otis, of Jackson, Principal Secretary; Edward C. Dunn, of Vincennes, Assistant Secretary; John D. Jones, of Marion, Chief Clerk; Mr. Otis was a whig; Messrs. Dunn and Jones Democrats. The two parties were evenly divided.

The names of the officers to the house will be found in Mr. Perry's letter. They are all Democrats.

Mr. Perry has introduced a bill for the regulation of the Probate Business in this State. In the Senate a bill has passed making a general reduction of about 33 per cent in the salaries and fees of public officers and members of the Legislature.

L. P. Foster, Esq., has been admitted to practice as Attorney and Counselor at Law in the Supreme Court of this State.

State Convention.—By a notice from the State Central Committee it will be seen that they have at length called a State Democratic Convention to be held at Indianapolis on the 10th January next. We trust delegates who have not already appointed delegates, will attend to it immediately.

From our Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 4, 1843.

DEAR SIR,
In haste I write to inform you that both houses of Congress, this day convened and proceeded to business—the House under the chairmanship of the speaker by the following vote: John W. Adams (Dem.) of Virginia 128
John W. Adams (Whig) of Kentucky 69 Wm. Wallace (Dem.) of Vermont 1.
The whigs tried to make it worse, but those members who were elected by general ticket, they could not make it follow the rules of last Congress were adopted with slight exceptions.

Yours truly

FEVER & AGUE

Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Intermittent & Remittent Fevers & all the various forms of Bilious Diseases. SPECIALLY CURED by Dr. Osgood's India Chokagoue

This invaluable medicine was prepared from an extensive practice of several years in a bilious climate, and is never known to fail of curing Fever and Ague, or any of the above diseases. It is equally effectual for the cure of LIVER COMPLAINT, JAUNDICE, ENLARGEMENT OF THE LIVER, also ENLARGEMENT OF THE SPLEEN, Colic, Ague Cuts, and the various forms of Bilious Indigestion. These, with the other varied affections of such climates, arising from a common miasmatic cause, are only modifications of the same disease, and equally controlled by the same remedy.

Residents of bilious climates, Emigrants, or persons travelling through infected districts of country, will find the Chokagoue an invaluable and absolute preventive.

Each bottle of medicine is accompanied with a Pamphlet on the Causes, Treatment, and Cure of Fever and Ague, and other diseases of Bilious Climates, containing much valuable information, and may be had gratis of the undersigned, or sent by Dr. L. BEECHER.
